

Combined Transport Bill of Lading

1. (Definitions) When used in this Bill of Lading: (A) "Ocean Carrier" means the company stated on the front of the bill of lading which performs the sea carriage; (B) "Goods" means the cargo or cargo documents, whether any of the preceding parties is acting as ocean carrier, non-vessel operating company, or bailee; (C) "Inland Carrier" means carriers (other than the Ocean Carrier) by land, water or air, participating in combined transport of the Goods, whether acting as carrier or bailee; (D) "Combined Transport" means carriage of the Goods under this Bill of Lading from place of receipt from Merchant to place of delivery to Merchant by the Ocean Carrier plus one or more inland Carriers; (E) "Port-to-Port Transportation" means carriage of the Goods under this Bill of Lading from place of receipt from Merchant to place of delivery to Merchant by the Ocean Carrier; (F) "Subcontractor" means a person, firm, company or other legal entity, consignee, owner, and receiver of the Goods and the holder of this Bill of Lading; (G) "Goods" mean the cargo described on the face of this Bill of Lading and, if the cargo is packed into container(s) supplied or furnished by or on behalf of the Merchant, include the container(s) as well; (H) "Vessel" includes the vessel named on the face of this Bill of Lading and any ship, craft, lighter, barge or other means of transport that is substituted in whole or in part for that vessel; (I) "Container" includes any containers (including an open top container) that are used for the carriage of the Goods, whether or not they are used in connection with the "On Board" or similar words endorsed on this Bill of Lading means that the Goods have been loaded on board the Vessel or are in the custody of the Ocean Carrier, and in the event of Combined Transport if the originating carrier is an Inland Carrier. "On Board" means that the Goods have been loaded on board rail cars or other means of inland carriage or are in the custody of a participating railroad or other Inland Carrier; (J) "Subcontractor" includes stevedores, longshoremen, lighters, terminal operators, warehousemen, truckers, agents, servants, and any person, firm, corporation or other legal entity which performs services incidental to the carriage of the Goods; (K) "United States" or "U.S." means the United States of America.

2. (Clause Paramount) (A) Insofar as this Bill of Lading covers carriage of Goods by water, this Bill of Lading shall have effect subject to the provisions of the "Hague Rules", namely the International Conventions for the Unification of Certain Rules Relating to Bills of Lading, dated at Brussels, August 25, 1924, as amended (including, where enacted, the Protocol dated at Brussels, February 23, 1968, known as the Visby Rules), as well as any other applicable laws, regulations, orders, decrees, and customs, and any other laws, regulations, orders, decrees, and customs, which are applicable, the Hague Rules as enacted in the country of destination shall apply. When no such enactment is in force in the country of shipment or in the country of destination, or is otherwise compulsorily applicable, the terms of the Hague Rules as enacted by the Convention shall apply. (B) If this Bill of Lading covers Goods moving to or from ports of the United States in foreign trade, then carriage of such Goods shall be subject to the provisions of the United States Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, 1936, 46 U.S.C. §§ 1901-1910, and the regulations thereunder. (C) In the event of Combined Transport, the provisions of U.S. COGSA shall apply to the Goods throughout the time when the Goods are in the custody of the Ocean Carrier and any other water carrier and otherwise provided in this Bill of Lading.

3. (Law and Jurisdiction) Whenever the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act 1936 (COGSA) of the United States of America applies, this contract is to be governed by United States Law. In all other cases actions against the Carrier (A) or the Ocean Carrier (B) shall be brought in the country which has its principal place of business and shall be decided according to the law of such country.

4. (Limitation of Liability Statutes) Nothing in this Bill of Lading shall operate to limit or deprive the Ocean Carrier of any statutory protection, exemption from, or limitation of liability authorized by the applicable laws, statutes, or regulations of any country.

5. (Sub-Contracting; Exemptions and Immunities of Subcontractors) (A) The Ocean Carrier shall be entitled to subcontract any or all of the handling, stowage, lashing, securing, tallying, tallying, and any and all duties whatsoever undertaken by the Ocean Carrier in relation to the Goods. (B) Merchant warrants that no claim shall be made against any Subcontractor (as defined in Article 1 (J)), or Subcontractor, of Ocean Carrier, except Inland Carriers where otherwise appropriate, that imposes or attempts to impose upon any of them or any vessel owned or operated by any of them any liability in connection with the Goods, and, if any such claims should nevertheless be made, to indemnify the Ocean Carrier against all consequences of such claims. (C) Without prejudice to the foregoing, any Subcontractor (as defined in Article 1 (J)) shall be deemed to have accepted the provisions in this Bill of Lading for the benefit of the Ocean Carrier as if such provisions were expressly for the Subcontractor's benefit. In entering into this contract the Ocean Carrier, to the extent of those provisions, does so not only on its own behalf of such Subcontractors.

6. (Route to Transport) (A) The Goods may, at the Ocean Carrier's absolute discretion, be carried as a single shipment or as several shipments by the Vessel and/or by other means of transport by land, water, air or by any and all other whatsoever routes. (B) The Ocean Carrier shall have the right to deviate from the route, to stop, to touch, to call and/or to stop at any port or place in or out of the direct, advertised, or customary route, one or more often and in any order, and/or at any port or place which is not scheduled or not. (C) The Vessel shall have liberty, either with or without the Goods on board and either before or after proceeding toward the port of discharge to adjust to compasses and other navigational instruments, make trial trips or tests, dry dock, go to repair yards, shift berths, leave on fuel or stores, embark or disembark any person, carry cargo, or otherwise use the Vessel for any purpose. (D) If the Goods in whole or in part are for any reason not carried on the Vessel named in this Bill of Lading, or if loading of the Goods is delayed or is likely to detain the Vessel, the Vessel may proceed without carrying or loading the Goods in whole or in part, and notice to merchant of such sailing is hereby waived. Ocean Carrier may forward the Goods under the terms of this Bill of Lading on the next available ship or at Ocean Carrier's option by any other means of transportation, whether by land, water or air. (E) At Ocean Carrier's option, the Goods may be carried on another ship or vessel owned or operated by Ocean Carrier or vessels named in this Bill of Lading, whether or not the substitute ship is owned or operated by Ocean Carrier or vessels or agents, or is scheduled to arrive or depart, before or after the Vessel named by this Bill of Lading. (F) Any action taken by the Ocean Carrier under this Article 6 shall be deemed to be included within the contractual carriage and such action, or delay resulting therefrom, shall not be considered a deviation. Should the Ocean Carrier be held liable in respect of such action, the Ocean Carrier shall be entitled to the full benefit of all provisions of this Bill of Lading and Article 7.

7. (Responsibility) (A) Insofar as this Bill of Lading is used for Port-to-Port Transportation of the Goods, the Ocean Carrier shall not be responsible for loss of or damage to the Goods caused before loading or after discharge "Loading" shall be deemed to commence with the hooking on the vessel's tackle, or if not using the vessel's tackle, with the receipt of the Goods on deck or in the hold of (if the Goods are in bulk) loading in the vessel's permanent pipe connections. "Discharge" shall be deemed to be completed when the Goods have been unloaded from the vessel's permanent pipe connections, deck or hold. (B) Insofar as this Bill of Lading is used for combined transport of the Goods, the responsibility of the Ocean Carrier and each Inland Carrier with respect to the Goods shall be limited to the period when the carrier has custody of the Goods, and no carrier, either Ocean or Inland, shall be responsible for any loss or damage caused while the Goods are not in its custody. Any claim for loss of or damage to the Goods, including loss or damages resulting from delay, should be made against the carrier having custody of the Goods when the Goods are in its custody or, if the Goods are in the custody of another carrier, against that other carrier. (C) In the event of loss of or damage to the Goods or in connection with the Goods, such responsibility, subject to the provisions of this Bill of Lading, shall be the extent following but not further: (1) With respect to loss or damage caused during the period from the time when the Goods arrived at the sea terminal at the port of loading to the time when left the sea terminal at the port of discharge, or caused during any previous or subsequent period of carriage by sea or waterways, to the extent prescribed by the applicable Hague Rules as provided in Article 2. (2) Save as indicated by Article 2, with respect to loss or damage caused during the handling, stowage, lashing, securing, tallying, or other services of the Ocean Carrier's Subcontractor, to the extent to which such Subcontractor would have been liable to the Merchant if he had made a direct and separate contract with the Merchant in respect of such handling, storage or carriage, provided, however, that if the Ocean Carrier is not authorized under any applicable laws, rules or regulations to undertake such handling, storage, or carriage under its own responsibility, the Ocean Carrier shall only be liable for procuring such handling, storage or carriage. (3) If such handling, storage or carriage occurred in or between ports of carriage, or at Ocean Carrier's option, at a port of discharge, the Ocean Carrier shall be liable to the Convention on the Contract for the International Carriage of Goods by Road, dated 19 May, 1956 (CMR), or (if not applicable), by the International Convention Concerning the Carriage of Goods by Rail, dated 25 February, 1961 (CIM), (c) if by air, by the Convention for the Unification of Certain Rules Relating to International Carriage by Air, signed Warsaw 12 October, 1929, as amended by the Hague Protocol dated 28 September, 1955 (Warsaw Convention). (d) If it is established by the Merchant that an Inland Carrier is responsible for loss of or damage to the Goods, the Ocean Carrier shall not be responsible for such loss or damage. (E) In the event of loss or damage to the Goods, the Ocean Carrier shall be liable to the Merchant if he had made a direct and separate contract with the Merchant in respect of handling, storage or carriage of the Goods, as applicable. (F) Notwithstanding foregoing Article 7 (A) or 7 (B), the Ocean Carrier does not undertake that the Goods shall arrive at the port of discharge or place of delivery at any particular time or in time to meet any particular market or use, and the Ocean Carrier shall not be responsible for any direct or indirect loss or damage that is caused through delay. (F) If this Bill of Lading is used for Port-to-Port Transportation of the Goods, the Ocean Carrier shall not be responsible for loss or damage to the Goods solely for the purpose of the Merchant's reference, and the Ocean Carrier's responsibility for the Goods shall in all cases cease at the time of discharge of the Goods at the port of discharge.

8. (Liabilities) (A) In any situation whatsoever whether or not existing or anticipated before commencement of or during the transport, which in the judgment of the Ocean Carrier (including for the purpose of this Article the Master and any person charged with the transport or safekeeping of the Goods) has given or is likely to give rise to a claim for loss or damage to the Goods, or to the Vessel, or to the Ocean Carrier, or to the other parties to the contract, the Goods or any property, or has rendered or is likely to render it in any way unsafe, impracticable, unlawful, or against the interest of the Ocean Carrier or the Merchant to commence or continue the transport or to discharge the Goods at the port of discharge or to deliver the Goods at the place of delivery by the route and in the manner originally intended by the Ocean Carrier, the Ocean Carrier (1) at any time shall be entitled to unclose the container(s) or otherwise dispose of the Goods in such way as the Ocean Carrier may deem advisable at the risk and expense of the Merchant and (2) before the Goods are loaded on the Vessel, or to the other means of transport at the place of receipt or port of loading, shall be entitled to cancel the contract of carriage without compensation and to require the Merchant to take delivery of the Goods and, upon his failure to do so, to warehouse or place them at any place selected by the Ocean Carrier at the risk and expense of the Merchant and/or (3) if the Goods are at a place awaiting transhipment, shall be entitled to terminate the transport there and to store them at any place selected by the Ocean Carrier at the risk and expense of the Merchant, and/or (4) if the Goods are loaded on the Vessel, or on other means of transport, shall be entitled to approach, entering, or attempting to enter the port of discharge or to reach the place of delivery or attempting or commencing to discharge, shall be entitled to discharge the Goods or any part of them at any port or place selected by the Ocean Carrier or to carry them back to the port of loading or place of receipt and there discharge them. Any actions under (3) or (4) above shall constitute complete and final delivery and full performance of this contract, and the Ocean Carrier thereafter shall be free from any responsibility for carriage of the Goods. (B) In the event of a claim for loss or damage to the Goods, or to the Vessel, or to the Ocean Carrier, or to the other parties to the contract, the Merchant shall be responsible for the cost of such claim, and the Ocean Carrier makes arrangements to store and/or forward the Goods, it is agreed that he shall do so only as agent for and at the sole risk and expense of the Merchant without any liability whatsoever in respect of such expenses. The Merchant shall reimburse the Ocean Carrier forthwith upon demand for all extra freight charges and expenses incurred for any actions taken according to subpart (A), including delay or expense to the Vessel, and the Ocean Carrier shall have a lien upon the Goods to that extent.

9. (Waiver of Claims) (A) Insofar as this Bill of Lading is used for combined transport of the Goods, the Ocean Carrier shall not be responsible for loss or damage to the Goods, or to the Vessel, or to the Ocean Carrier, or to the other parties to the contract, which in the judgment of the Ocean Carrier (including for the purpose of this Article the Master and any person charged with the transport or safekeeping of the Goods) has given or is likely to give rise to a claim for loss or damage to the Goods, or to the Vessel, or to the Ocean Carrier, or to the other parties to the contract, the Goods or any property, or has rendered or is likely to render it in any way unsafe, impracticable, unlawful, or against the interest of the Ocean Carrier or the Merchant to commence or continue the transport or to discharge the Goods at the port of discharge or to deliver the Goods at the place of delivery by the route and in the manner originally intended by the Ocean Carrier, the Ocean Carrier (1) at any time shall be entitled to unclose the container(s) or otherwise dispose of the Goods in such way as the Ocean Carrier may deem advisable at the risk and expense of the Merchant and (2) before the Goods are loaded on the Vessel, or to the other means of transport at the place of receipt or port of loading, shall be entitled to cancel the contract of carriage without compensation and to require the Merchant to take delivery of the Goods and, upon his failure to do so, to warehouse or place them at any place selected by the Ocean Carrier at the risk and expense of the Merchant and/or (3) if the Goods are at a place awaiting transhipment, shall be entitled to terminate the transport there and to store them at any place selected by the Ocean Carrier at the risk and expense of the Merchant, and/or (4) if the Goods are loaded on the Vessel, or on other means of transport, shall be entitled to approach, entering, or attempting to enter the port of discharge or to reach the place of delivery or attempting or commencing to discharge, shall be entitled to discharge the Goods or any part of them at any port or place selected by the Ocean Carrier or to carry them back to the port of loading or place of receipt and there discharge them. Any actions under (3) or (4) above shall constitute complete and final delivery and full performance of this contract, and the Ocean Carrier thereafter shall be free from any responsibility for carriage of the Goods. (B) In the event of a claim for loss or damage to the Goods, or to the Vessel, or to the Ocean Carrier, or to the other parties to the contract, the Merchant shall be responsible for the cost of such claim, and the Ocean Carrier makes arrangements to store and/or forward the Goods, it is agreed that he shall do so only as agent for and at the sole risk and expense of the Merchant without any liability whatsoever in respect of such expenses. The Merchant shall reimburse the Ocean Carrier forthwith upon demand for all extra freight charges and expenses incurred for any actions taken according to subpart (A), including delay or expense to the Vessel, and the Ocean Carrier shall have a lien upon the Goods to that extent.

navigation or the carriage or handling of the Goods or the Vessel whatsoever given, by any actual or purported stevedore or public wharfman or by any committee or person who is responsible for the management of the Vessel, the right to give such order, direction, regulation, or suggestion. If by reason of and/or in compliance with any such order, direction, regulation, or suggestions, anything is done or is not done the same shall be deemed to be included within the contractual carriage and shall not be a deviation.

9. (Description and Particulars of Goods) Any reference on the face of this Bill of Lading to marks, numbers, description, quantity, quality, gauge, weight, measure, nature, kind, value, and any other particulars of the Goods, as so indicated on the face of this Bill of Lading, shall be deemed to be made in conformity with such reference and is not bound thereby. The Merchant warrants to the Ocean Carrier that the descriptions and particulars furnished by him are correct, and the Merchant shall indemnify the Ocean Carrier against all loss, damage, expenses, liability, penalties and fines arising or resulting from inaccuracy of any description or particular.
